

Premium Stone Effect on Fibreglass

Like the Corten Steel effect this range of Premium Stone planters is game changing. For the first time real aggregate can be directly bonded to fibreglass producing in effect a Stone cladding.

By varying the pigmentation and aggregate mixture, pretty well any commercial stone down to the variations from individual quarries can be mimicked precisely.

Therefore, while we offer 8 standard colour choices we have access to over 70 available and can more often that not match exactly to real stone on a particular site.

The nature of this coating means it is incredibly hard wearing and a great choice for streetscapes as well as choice private gardens & grounds.
